Defendants Fail To Pay Fines

Bench Warrants Issued For Three Defendants, Who Fail to Pay Fines
McCardie and David Plead Guilty to Reckless Driving and Are Fined $50.

In county court Monday afternoon, there were several more defendants arraigned and pleas accepted. In three cases where pleas of guilty had been accepted at a former term and the defendants given time to get together their fines they failed to appear and pay their fines and in all three cases District Attorney Traver asked that bench warrants be issued for their arrest.

William Mercier and Fred Hummel, who entered pleas of guilty to driving cars while intoxicated at a former term of the court and who were given until this term to get the money, failed to appear. Charles McClellan of East Kingston, who pleaded guilty to having a slot machine in his possession when arrested a few days ago, also failed to pay the $75 fine which had been imposed and which he had been given time to get. De Cicco contends that the man who owned the slot machine should be punished, but fails to inform the authorities who placed the machine in his place. Warrants were ordered issued by the court in all three cases.

Peter J. Dugan and George V. D. Dugan, who were given time to collect their fine money for driving a car while intoxicated, both had paid their money to the court. In the case of Bevier Lennon, who was sentenced last week to serve an indeterminate term in the Clinton State Prison at Dannemora, the sentence imposed at that time was vacated. Judge Fowler last week imposed a sentence of from one year and nine months to two years and six months. Lennon has a previous conviction against his record and served in an Illinois reformatory under the law a straight sentence. He was given a straight sentence of one year and nine months. He has been in the jail for six months.

John J. McCordie, who was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated, and who at a previous term entered a plea of not guilty, appeared in court and through his attorney, Andrew J. Cook, asked leave to plead guilty to the charge of reckless driving. Mr. Cook stated to the court that there was grave doubt if McCordie was intoxicated, and statements made by physicians who saw him in the hospital immediately after his accident and arrest were contradictory. He was not intoxicated. Mr. Traver stated that the information given by Mr. Cook was correct. Dr. McKea, who attended McCordie at the hospital after the accident in which he collided with a trolley car on Broadway last winter, had informed Mr. Traver that McCordie was not intoxicated when he appeared at the hospital. At the time of the indictment being brought by the grand jury Dr. O'Meara was ill and unable to appear before the grand jury.

In view of the circumstances, Mr. Traver was willing to accept a plea of guilty to reckless driving. Judge Fowler imposed a fine of $50 and suspended McCordie's license for 30 days. He paid.

John David, who was arraigned last week and entered a plea of not guilty to driving a car while intoxicated, also appeared and stated that he was willing to plead guilty to reckless driving. John had been having some domestic trouble and in the night in question was perhaps intoxicated but at the time of his arrest he was not driving the car. He was in his car along the road. Since that time John has sold his car. His plea was accepted and he was fined $50 and his license to drive revoked. Court went into recess until Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

MacMillan Ready For Polar Dash

Farewells from President Coolidge, Governor Fuller and Others as Noted Explorer Prepares to Start on Search for Amundsen Expedition.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Boston, Mass., June 16.—Commander Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, whose polar dash to rescue Roald Amundsen and search for a "hidden continent" gets under way here tomorrow, was the guest today at another "God-speed banquet" at City Club.

Six United States destroyers will escort the Peary out of port and naval planes will circle the ship.

Prior to departure, the navy yard will be open to visitors and exercises will be held aboard the historic frigate Constitution.

Commander MacMillan will go to the yard from a farewell breakfast to be tendered him by Governor Alvan T. Fuller. After speeches by the explorer, MacMillan will go to the bridge of the flagship and broadcast an address by radio from the MacMillan portable station WNP.

As the Peary sails down the harbor, MacMillan will enter one of his amphibian airplanes and fly ahead of the Peary to Southport, Maine, where the flagship will join the auxiliary steamer Bowdoin, of the MacMillan expedition.

On Friday, Maine will tender the explorer a big state banquet at Southport. Special radio receiving sets will be installed and a farewell message will be received from President Coolidge and Governor Fuller of Massachusetts.

The sailing of the Arctic expedition from Wiscasset, Maine, on Saturday will be a memorable event. Brewster of their coming is the Civitan Club of Minneapolis.

Demands Death For Dentist

California Prosecutor Characterizes Young Murder as Most Atrocious and Brutal He Has Ever Known—Dentist May Plead Insanity.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Los Angeles, Cal., June 16.—The strange murder of Mrs. Grace Young, Los Angeles society leader, by her husband, Thomas W. Young, dentist, who gassed her to death with somnolent, promised today to become another court battle of alienists and attorneys.

While three alienists for the state examined Young in his cell, the self-confessed murderer employed attorneys and despite his statement after his arrest that he would not make a fight to keep off the gallows, began to battle for freedom.

The state alienists reported their preliminary examination showed no signs of insanity in Young. A complete report will be filed today.

District Attorney Asa Keyes announced the death penalty would be demanded for Young.

Keyes will present his case against the dentist, believed to have killed his pretty wife for her money and to have plotted the murder of his 18-year-old step-son, Charles Patrick Crogan, in order to get the youth's $1,000,000 estate. To the grand jury today or tomorrow.

"In all my experience, I do not recall a single case where the facts were more atrocious or brutal than those in the Young murder," Keyes asserted. "I intend to place the matter before the grand jury, at once, bringing Young to speedy trial and demand the death penalty."

Insane Man Tries Wife-Murder

Maniac Pursues Wife Around the House While Neighbors Telephone for Sheriff. Then Break in and Capture Him.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 16.—Mrs. William Burgess, Stop 13, Fayetteville Road, lived a life of terror in one short hour today as she fought for her life with a husband gone mad.

Armed with a heavy club, Burgess pursued his wife about the house, aiming skull crushing blows at her head, while deputy sheriffs who started to the rescue were delayed in a stalled car several miles away.

Three neighbors eventually broke into the Burgess home and captured the maniac, holding him until the deputies arrived and took him to the hospital.

Burgess returned home early last night and appeared to be in good health. Toward midnight he is reported by his wife to have got out of bed and started to pick a quarrel.

He went into the yard and armed himself with the club.

Upon his return he is reported to have told his wife: "I am going to kill you."

Frightened, Mrs. Burgess screamed and ran around the house with her husband in pursuit. Her screams awakened the neighbors, who called the court house jail for help.

Slaying Followed Old Dispute

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Shanghai, June 16.—The slaying of William McKenzie, British subject and an employee of the Municipal Electricity Department, and the wounding of Miss Mary Duncan is believed to have been the outgrowth of a long standing dispute between the Chinese and the municipal council over the extension of the foreign settlement roads into Chinese territory.

The Chinese claimed such extensions were an "infringement of their sovereignty."

The British consulate, it is understood, is lodging a strong protest, demanding the capture and punishment of the murderers.

President Starts Economy Program

Directs Meeting of Department Heads To Plan Greater Efficiency and Economy—Treasury Surplus Less Than Estimate—Government Operating Expenses Reduced.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, June 16.—President Coolidge today formally launched his 1926-1927 economy program, aimed at drastic cost cutting policies in government which may be reflected in tax reduction in the Sixty-ninth Congress.

At the president's direction, department heads were requested by Budget Director H. M. Lord to attend the annual meeting of the government's business organization on June 22.

Plans to secure greater efficiency and economy for the coming two years will be outlined, according to Lord.

Coincident with the calling of the economy session came indications of a clash in Congress between the administration and advocates of tax reduction who feel government revenue can be cut more than $500,000,000.

While Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will submit no specific plan to Congress and will avoid an open break on new legislation, he opposes revenue reduction exceeding $300,000,000. A greater cut would force the government to borrow money to meet expenses, experts said.

The treasury revealed that the surplus for 1926 will be approximately $250,000,000, compared to the preliminary $373,700,000 estimate. Partially balancing this loss, however, was the probability that the 1925 surplus will exceed the estimate of $67,000,000 by $50,000,000.

The treasury is against a revenue cut greater than the surplus. Mellon also opposes applying payments on foreign debts directly to tax reduction, holding that it is better economy to reach taxes indirectly by applying payments to the public debt.

A change of treasury policy would require an amendment of the law.

If taxes are reduced rates must be levied so scientifically that the new bill will eventually increase revenue, officials said. Mellon believes a cut in surtaxes to 15 or 25 per cent will accomplish this end.

The government reduced its operating expenses by $120,665,000 from July 1, 1924, to June 14, compared to the same period of 1923-1924. Ordinary expenses were $7,551,000 higher, the cut being due to reduced public debt interest.

The agricultural department increased its expenditures $26,582,000; the navy $14,971,000 and the war department $9,848,000. Led by the veterans' bureau with $22,371,000, five departments cut expenses.

President Coolidge is expected to ask department heads to use the pruning knife to get under the $3,267,000,000 estimated costs for 1926, appropriations for which have already been made.

The president will fix a maximum ordinary expenditure for the government in 1927. The figure for 1926 was $1,800,000,000. Budget officials said ordinary expenditures for 1927 probably would exceed 1926 by $50,000,000.

Drastic Dry Drive Begins in Chicago

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Ill., June 16.—The drive against gangland in retaliation for the killing of two policemen last Saturday took on a wider scope today when prohibition agents, gathered here from Washington and down state, began the most drastic prohibition move yet made in Chicago.

On orders of Chief Prohibition Officer Charles W. Vursell, two prohibition agents were to be placed today at the gates of each of the city's four largest alcohol making plants.

These men will inspect every truck as it leaves the plant. The withdrawal permit will be examined and the information telephoned to headquarters, and a flying squadron of agents will be sent to convey the truck to its destination.

The squad will see that every tin of alcohol is delivered and a later check up will be made to determine whether every ounce has gone into the manufacture of legal products, such as hair tonic, patent medicines and toilet water.

The move, federal officials say, strikes at the root of the bootlegging life, endangering the immense profits of bootleggers, threatens the life of every terrorist, racketeer and liquor grafting politician.

Mary Williams Was Unfortunate

Poughkeepsie Girl Visiting Friends in Kingston Imbibed Wine and Was Forsaken by Friends—Shokan Man Forfeits Bail.

Mary Williams, 21 years old of Poughkeepsie, who was picked up intoxicated by the police Friday night, was arraigned before Judge Harry E. Schrick in police court today and given a chance to return to her home.

From the story learned by the police Mary was unfortunate in the choice of her friends. She had come to Kingston to visit them and they had gone out for an auto ride. While out they imbibed some wine and Mary was left stranded on an uptown street while her friends drove away.

The friends were a man and his wife and another young man who went along as company for Mary.

When Mary was brought to police headquarters, whatever she had been drinking made her violent and as she was placed in the detention room where she kicked the iron-barred detention door with such force that it struck the wall clock hanging in police headquarters, putting it out of commission.

John Mahoney of Shokan was arrested Monday evening for driving a Ford truck without headlights or tail light. He furnished $5 cash bail for his appearance in police court today, but failed to appear and the bail was forfeited.

Abram Gordon Died in Jail

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Abram Gordon of West Strand, who was arrested Monday evening on a charge of public intoxication, was found dead at 11 o'clock this morning in his cell in the Ulster county jail. Death was due, the authorities said, to alcoholism. Gordon, better known as Able, had only been discharged Friday from the county jail, where he had served a term for public intoxication. When he was taken to the jail Monday evening he was cut and bruised about the head where he had fallen while trying to walk, and had his wounds dressed by Dr. Frederick Snyder.

This morning when the police patrol was sent after Able to convey him to police court he was not in condition to be taken to the city hall and the hearing was adjourned to Wednesday. At 11 o'clock when Dr. E. H. Loughran visited Able in his cell he found him dead. Coroner W. Norman Conner was notified by Sheriff Wells and the body was taken in charge by Stock & Cordts, undertakers. Gordon is survived by a wife and several children.

Striking Miners Burn Houses

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Halifax, N. S., June 16.—Incendiary fires in coal mine properties and the burning of houses of the British Empire Steel Corporation by striking miners, together with other isolated acts of violence were reported today.

PERKINS GIRL RE-EXACTS SHOOTING OF TEMPLETON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 16.—With a gun in her hand, Dorothy Perkins, bobbed haired 17-year-old murder trial defendant, was forced to again re-enact the circumstances surrounding the shooting of Thomas Templeton when she was recalled to the witness stand today.

At first Dorothy gave evidence of mental distress as the prosecutor compelled her to go through the tragic pantomime, but she quickly recovered herself and was all alertness. She was again dressed completely in black, with a white lace collar at her throat.

Dorothy grasped the gun as she did yesterday—her finger on the trigger guard and the butt resting against her wrist.

New action was put into the scene by two of the district attorney's assistants—one represented Dorothy's father, with whom the girl was struggling for possession of the gun when it went off, and the other "played" Templeton, her suitor, for whose alleged murder she is on trial.

Dorothy then acted the scene as she told about it in court.

12 Killed, 25 Injured, In New Jersey Wreck

Lightning Had Shattered Rail an Hour Before Special Train Carrying Passengers En Route to Germany Was Derailed—Victims Scalded by Escaping Steam After Being Injured—List of Dead Expected to Grow.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Hackettstown, N. J., June 16.—Twelve persons were killed and at least twenty-five injured, several of them perhaps fatally, when a special five car train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, speeding from Chicago to Hoboken, N. J., was derailed at Rockford, three miles from here, early today.

The victims were on their way to New York to sail this afternoon on the Republic of the United States Line, for Bremen, Germany.

The Germans were bound for their homeland in a group under a special rate plan known as "Neuman's excursion." Reservations had been made for many of them in second cabin of the steamship Republic.

Others were to go in the steerage.

Lightning Shattered Rail.

The train struck a rail at Rockford that had been shattered by lightning an hour before. The engine and the two front coaches leaped the rails. The other three coaches remained on the tracks.

Relief trains, bearing doctors, nurses and all necessary paraphernalia were rushed to the scene from Dover, Hackettstown, Washington, N. J., and Easton, Pa.

The greatest confusion prevailed at the scene when the rescue workers arrived. Women were screaming, men were trying to quiet them and some of the most seriously injured begged the doctors to let them die.

Most of the victims were asleep when the accident occurred, at 3:30 o'clock this morning.

Story of Eyewitness.

The first eyewitness story of the fatal crash was given International News Service by Miss Mabel White, daughter of Chief of Police L. C. White of Hackettstown, and one of the first to arrive at the scene. She was a spectator at a fire in a lumber works in Hackettstown early this morning when news of the wreck at Rockford was received.

"I went at once to the scene, three miles away, in a friend's automobile," Miss White said. "We got there about half an hour after the wreck occurred."

Scene Was Pitiable.

"The scene was pitiable. Women, some of whom could not talk English, were going about in circles, wringing their hands and crying as if their hearts would break. 'Big, strong men, their husbands, or friends, went about patting them on the shoulders and trying to comfort them.'"

"One woman whose child, a girl, was scalded to death, was inconsolable."

"The two front coaches and the engine had gone off the track. The windows of these coaches—both steel by the way—were shattered and many of the injured were inside, groaning. They were being treated by those who first got to the scene."

Injured, Scalded, Then Died.

"I counted ten dead. Most of the dead were scalded as well as injured in the wreck."

"I had the presence of mind to take with me from Hackettstown a bottle of olive oil. I went through one of the windows of the overturned coaches and applied the oil to the burns of the injured."

"The injured were in terrible pain. They screamed and groaned. 'Passengers from the three coaches that remained on the tracks did all they could to help the injured. But as they were without medicine or bandages they were unable to give much assistance until after the first of the nurses and doctors arrived.'"

"The injured were taken in private automobiles and in ambulances to Hackettstown, Morristown, Washington and Easton."

Train Making Fast Time.

The wrecked train, according to some of the passengers, was making fast time when the accident occurred.

Reports of the number of dead and injured were conflicting. First information was that seven were killed, then ten, twelve, and other reports had it that many more than this number were killed and injured.

One doctor said at 9:45 this morning that the death list would be greatly increased from twelve later, as some of the injured were in a critical condition.

The engineer of the train was killed outright. The conductor was so badly hurt it is feared he will die.

The first two coaches were filled with steam immediately after the impact, scalding many of the passengers.

Ploughed 30 Feet Through Sand.

The engine ploughed through the sand and dirt for thirty feet after it struck the switch. The two coaches, immediately behind, piled up on top of the engine.

The dead included the engineer, brakeman and brakeman of the train.

There were 132 passengers on the train.

The first coach piled on top of the engine, the second coach followed the first and lay crosswise on top of the heap, and the third car a sleeper, smashed into the wreckage ahead.

At daylight, steam still poured from the broken pipes of the engine.

Farmers Ploek to Scene.

News of the accident spread rapidly and farmers and their wives for miles around, came to Rockford in automobiles.

Rockford, where the wreck occurred, is sparsely settled. Neighboring farmers heard the sound of the storm and hurried to the scene. There they found the passengers in the last coaches, which remained on the track trying to rescue those in the forward coaches, which had toppled.

The rescuers, reached by telephone from Hackettstown, said the greatest confusion prevailed at the scene.

Women screamed and the injured, lying about among the debris, were groaning with pain. The confusion lasted until daylight.

Troopers from the New Jersey state constabulary were at the scene maintaining order all morning.

Seven Bodies Recovered.

By noon rescuers had succeeded in extricating seven bodies from the wreckage and removing them to an undertaking establishment here. All the bodies were burned and blackened. Workers said there were more bodies in the debris.

Two to those removed were partially identified as Fred Loomis, the engineer, and M. Scanlon, brakeman.

1000 Knights At Port Jervis

The Port Jervis Union-Gazette of today's issue says the following concerning the silver jubilee celebration of Port Jervis Knights of Columbus. One hundred fifty members of Kingston Council, No. 278, of C., took part in Sunday's exercises.

Sunday, June 14, 1923, will long be remembered by the residents of the city, particularly the members of Port Jervis Council, No. 471, of C., as the occasion of the largest parade ever held in the city and which served very appropriately as the leading feature of the 25th or silver jubilee of the organization of the council, which now over 400 members. Signs of welcome, K. of C. and large American flags were everywhere throughout the city. The affair was every way a big success. Early in the morning there were showers in New York and vicinity and this may have interfered to some extent with the patronage on the trains from the metropolitan district.

Special trains on the Erie and the afternoon, from Jersey City, Suffern, Paterson, Passaic, Middletown, Goshen and intermediate stations and Newburgh, brought 3,360 guests, musicians and visitors, while trains from Kingston, Delaware Division, Kingston, Jersey and some from Middletown made the journey to this city in the morning, while hundreds of automobiles from all sections of eastern New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey brought their full quota of visitors.

It is estimated that there were 100,000 people in line in the parade, which took 40 minutes to pass the city. At the conclusion of the parade, the marchers disbanded on the Metropolitan baseball field, the bands played a few pieces and there was a mass of several thousand people near the altar, which had been erected on the field for the purpose. Bouquets of flowers and a row of candles were placed on the altar. Two large amplifiers were used to carry the speakers' messages to the most distant people in the audience.

The Rev. W. J. Donohue of this city was in charge of the meeting. He welcomed the host of visitors, the name of the local K. of C. Council and the people of Port Jervis. He humorously referred to his recent accident and his narrow escape from injury. He then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, the famous Father Childwick, of the ship Maine, now Monsignor.

M. E. ZION CONFERENCE
CLOSED AT YONKERS.

The A. M. E. Zion Conference which has been in session at Yonkers, closed on Sunday evening at 11 o'clock. The conference was one of the most successful sessions yet held. On Sunday afternoon the service was so dense that the service had to be held at Phillipsburg Hall, where hundreds were standing. L. G. Mason, district superintendent of the Long Island district, lauded in his report that the conference was divided on account of its length and Sunday bore evidence to his suggestion.

The reports of the presiding elders showed a remarkable growth in membership and the construction of churches which replaced dilapidated buildings and emphasized the assistance given pastor and people of white citizens of the town. Dr. Stephen A. McNeill, presiding elder of the Hudson river district, in his report stated that Kingston was in need of a new church. That Middleton, which was considered one of the finest church edifices of the district, practically built by the citizens of the town, was in the rear, but that he felt sure she will take her place under the leadership of her pastor, who has the confidence of all the people of Kingston.

There was but one change in the Hudson river district which occurred at Haverstraw, to which church the Rev. C. C. Taylor was assigned. The Rev. E. O. Clarke was returned to the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion church for another year, this being his sixth year as pastor of the local church.

TWO AUTO MISHAPS AT

Both cars were damaged.

Mr. Wind turned his head to answer a telephone call, and in doing so lost control of the car and it landed in the water. The children of Mr. Wind were thrown forward and the baby was buried from Mrs. Wind's lap in the front seat but was fortunately caught by her son. Theodore, who was seated with his father on the front seat. Mrs. Wind and the children were bruised about the face and head and were taken into a nearby house. The car was taken to a garage for repairs.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Cambridge, Mass., June 16.—Human life, men, women and children, count as they never did before, declared the Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, Bishop of the Diocese of Massachusetts and fellow at Harvard, speaking today at Harvard's class day exercises.

"Having lived among the prosperous and worked for years among wage earners, I want to tell you of the immense change for the better in the relations of the various groups," said Bishop Lawrence. "The alert man of business or industrial leader who is a real leader counts himself the servant of all the people of the organizations, the laborers as well as the stockholders; it is in the long run good business as well as good morals."

Ranlet Miner of Rochester, N. Y., was orator at the tree exercises. The annual confetti battle in the stadium was scheduled for late this afternoon.

DECISIVE ACTION IS RECOMMENDED BY PAINEVE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Paris, June 16.—Decisive action to curb the growing menace of the Moroccan situation was recommended to the cabinet today by Premier Paul Painleve, who also is minister of war, who arrived back in Paris today after an inspection of the French front in Morocco.

A new commander-in-chief for the French forces was one of Painleve's recommendations.

Painleve made three suggestions to the cabinet. They were:

First—A rigorous Franco-Spanish blockade of Rif ports to check all of the smuggling of arms.

Second—This disciplining of General Colombat, who will be relieved of his command, because of his over-hasty evacuation of Ouzen.

Third—The appointment of General Daugan as commander-in-chief of all the French troops in Morocco, with Marshal Lyautey remaining as resident general.

Make Sure You Are Insured

Many Insurance Policies Bought By Motorists Are Not Worth the Paper They Are Written On, A. A. A. Finds.

By Telegraph to The Freeman
Washington D. C., June 16—All motorists who carry liability insurance were urged by the American Automobile Association today to lose no time in examining their liability policies in order to make sure that they are really insured and that the company undertakes to pay judgments against them in all cases in consideration of the premiums paid.

There are few motorists, according to the A. A. A. statement, who realize that when they buy liability insurance they do not necessarily buy protection against liability and that they may be buying only protection against loss, as some insurance companies refuse to pay judgments unless the policy holder first pays the judgment himself.

This warning to motorists was issued under the signature of Major Roy F. Britton, of St. Louis, Missouri, chairman of the legislative board of the A. A. A., and president of the Automobile Club of Missouri which recently made an exhaustive investigation of various types of automobile insurance contracts.

"It is obviously unfair for insurance companies to accept premiums from motorists unless they are prepared to pay in all cases," Major Britton said.

In a law of the fact that millions of motorists pay substantial sums for protection in case of accidents, Major Britton declared that it is high time that motorists were warned against the type of insurance that merely guarantees protection against "loss" and does not undertake to pay judgments in cases where the insured is insolvent or has not at his disposal the liquid assets with which to pay damages.

He pointed out that while many insurance companies pay and waive technicalities by inserting a clause in the policy which guarantees payment whether or not the insured is bankrupt or insolvent, other companies fail to provide this "insolvency" clause.

"In the case of the latter," said Major Britton, "it is fair to assume that the companies would fight payment in case judgment is obtained against the insured and he himself is unable to pay. In fact, cases of this kind have frequently come up in the courts, the courts in these instances sustaining the rule of law that a policy providing for indemnity against loss does not become payable until the insured pays the judgment." He continued.

"An investigation has revealed that some insurance companies do not word their policies that they are not legally forced to pay damages unless the policy holder is financially able to pay the damages himself. If he is unable to pay, the insurance company in some instances refuses to pay. The injured party does not collect and the insured is left with a judgment hanging over him.

"Practically every motorist is under the impression that his liability policy provides that, if he injures someone and that person sues and is unable to pay, the insurance company will pay the amount of the judgment, provided that it does not exceed the policy limit.

"This, however, is far from being the case. In many instances policies held by motorists read like this: 'The company in consideration of the premium, agrees to indemnify the insured against loss sustained by the insured arising from liability for damages.'

"This simply means that a company offering this type of policy does not undertake to pay the person injured when he gets a judgment against you. The company will reimburse you when you sustain a 'loss,' that is, when you yourself pay the judgment. But if you are unable to pay the insurance company will not pay—and is not bound to pay under this type of contract.

"Two classes of policy holders are affected when such a situation develops, namely, those who are actually insolvent and those who have the means but not immediately available for payment. In either case the insurance company is in a position to take advantage of the wording of the policy which agrees to give protection against 'loss' and not against 'liability.'

"The Automobile Club of Missouri recently cited several cases on the point in issue and showed that in these instances the policy was worth little or nothing as far as protecting the motorist was concerned.

"It should be stated in fairness that many of the reputable insurance companies recognize a moral obligation to protect their patrons and even have waived the technicality in cases where the insured was unable to pay in addition, many companies embody in their policies what is called an 'insolvency clause' which provides that the insurer or bankruptcy of the policy holder shall not release the company from the payment of damages."

Concurring in the views expressed by Major Britton, Thomas P. Henry, president of the A. A. A., said: "This warning is in no way a wholesale indictment of insurance companies. The uniform adoption of complete moral responsibility and the inclusion of an insolvency clause, as urged by Major Britton, would protect the reputable companies at the same time that it would protect the motorist. The motorist owes it to himself to examine carefully all contracts into which he enters whether for insurance or for service. It is the failure on his part in the past to take this to heart that has enabled 'Gyp' organizations to fatten on him, on legitimate motor clubs and at the expense of the better class of insurance companies.

"Every motorist is, of course, expected to exercise the utmost care that he does not hurt anyone and realized that liability insurance does not which in the scale against carelessness or recklessness. The responsible driver has a horror of cause."

tax injury but if he does, he intends to pay damages to the victim and pay a substantial sum each year for insurance. He cannot afford to be in ignorance of the kind of protection he buys."

Color Is Important, Prints Gay, and Jabots Persistent in Parisian Modes.

It is repeatedly announced by those who have been eye-witnesses of Paris scenes that not since before the war—some say long, long before it—have colors been so gay as at the moment. This is the more curious because the type of thing the Parisienne now wears is tailored and would appear to call for a darker presentation.

Topcoats and mannish suits lose a good deal of their aggressive magnificence when fashioned of softly pastel colors, or of bright ones and it is either one or the other which is most often evidenced—the exception being navy.

A Pleated Panel

A Pleated Panel of White Crepe Diversifies a Frock—Interpreted in Cretonne.

While some of those who look ahead are busily forecasting brown as a fall color, others feel that navy will be the more favored shade, because it is newer, both factions admit that black is a likely rival. The Parisienne is always partial to black and several of the couturiers who have a local clientele are showing black for the elegant afternoon costume—it is true, most frequently relieved by color.

That printed crepes and silks generally have become important, savors of stale news, were it not for the fact that new prints and new uses for them are always making their debut.

The frock sketched is clever because of the use of a plain jabot, which not only gives a suggestion of height, but successfully breaks the surface of the print, producing a slenderizing effect.

Your Health is affected by wrong hygienic habits

This NEW way in solving woman's oldest hygienic problem will mean much to you

SIXTY per cent of many women's disorders, doctors now point out, are often traceable to wrong hygienic methods.

Now there is a new way... a way that supplants the dangers and uncertainties of the old-time sanitary pad.

Physicians urge it. Women's doctors have adopted it. Hygienic authorities employ it. And your own peace of mind demands it. For it offers charm and immaculacy under any and all circumstances.

The name is Kotex... a method scientifically right. It absorbs 5 times the moisture of the ordinary cotton pad. And that means great protection.

It is as easily disposed of as a piece of tissue—that ends an old-time embarrassment. It is deodorized. And that prevents danger of offense. You can get it at any drug or department store, just by saying "Kotex." And that banishes the embarrassment of asking for a "sanitary pad."

Eight in every ten women in the better walks of life have adopted it. Which proves its benefits. It will mean much to you in health, in daintiness and protection. It proves old ways a needless folly.

KOTEX
DEODORIZED

- 1 Protection: 5 times as absorbent as cotton pads. Absorbs 16 times its own weight in moisture—and scientifically deodorized.
- 2 No laundry—Discard as easily as a piece of tissue.
- 3 Easy to buy, anywhere. You ask for them by name. Many stores keep them ready-wrapped—help yourself, pay the clerk, that is all.

No Laundry—Discard as easily as a piece of tissue.

Farm Bureau
Picnic August 20

The Farm and Home Bureau, Chamber of Commerce 1925 Picnic Committee met at the Home Bureau office on Friday, June 12, to lay plans for a rousing big time for county and city people on the day of this annual event. Chairman H. M. Eppes of Accord announces the date for the big day as Thursday, August 20, and the place as Forsyth Park, Kingston.

Plans for all the various contests, games and entertainment always a part of this day's sport can not be given out at this time, since the appointing of committees to work out the program has been very recent. After a careful survey of the membership of each organization interested, General Chairman Eppes announced the following sub-chairmen selected to take charge of each department:

Refreshments—Mrs. W. A. Warren, Hurley.

Entertainment—Sam Bernstein, Jr., Kingston.

Athletics—C. E. Wonderly, Kingston.

Horseshoe Pitching—Joe Deyo, Gardiner.

Seats, Tents, Tables—C. C. Dumond, Ulster Park.

The committee is unanimously of the opinion that this year's picnic will be bigger and better than ever, despite the record attendance of twelve thousand at last year's gathering. "I FIND it's mighty helpful when going over the fine points of a house with a prospective buyer, to say, 'And this house has a Thatcher Steam Boiler.' Nine times out of ten, the buyer has a friend who is a Thatcher enthusiast. Fact is, I have a Thatcher Boiler in my own cellar. I never have to worry about zero weather, nor do I spend all my money in feeding the coal pile."

ATTENTION only once or twice a day keeps a Thatcher Boiler operating efficiently. Competitive tests under actual working conditions have proved that the Thatcher Boiler gives the most powerful heat for rated capacity. Grate surface, flue area and circulation of water are most effectively equalized.

"Billy's" Finacee Was In On Deal

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Chicago, Ill., June 16.—Miss Isabelle Pope, fiancée of "Billy" McClintock, today admitted under cross-examination in the trial of William D. Shepherd, accused of murdering Billy, that she had made an agreement with the heirs to the McClintock estate that if young McClintock's will was broken she and they were to share on an even basis. She said that it was agreed Mrs. Shepherd would be "taken care of."

"Your understanding is that Billy left the bulk of his estate to the Shepherds, and that there is a contest by some of the heirs in Iowa, and that you have entered into an agreement with these heirs under which you are to get something?" asked Stewart.

"Yes, I understand it's to be a fifty-fifty split," replied Miss Pope, with the exception that $100,000 is to be set aside for Mrs. Shepherd.

Miss Pope admitted that she had an ill feeling toward Shepherd but not against Mrs. Shepherd.

"You loved Billy?" Miss Pope was asked.

"Yes."

Sweet-faced, serious, a hint of suppressed tears in her eyes, a sad smile now and again on her lips, Miss Pope submitted calmly to the cross-examination. She told of how she and Billy first met, how first she passed him with a nod as he did all the other boys in high school.

Miss Pope admitted that when Billy used to call on her in the afternoons they had oysters; that he was very fond of them.

Settle Shanghai Strike Tomorrow

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Shanghai, June 16.—The general strike which has tied up Shanghai for a fortnight will end tomorrow with an understanding between Chinese negotiators and representatives of the foreign powers, according to persistent reports today.

It was understood today that the Chinese were holding out for punishment of police who fired on student demonstrators, for indemnities for the families of the slain, and for a return of the mixed court.

Foreign delegates declined to state how negotiations were proceeding, but it was understood they were willing to make some concessions, possibly of a return to the mixed court. Chinese exchange speculators started buying gold bars this afternoon on the strength of rumors of a settlement.

CHECK BLACKHEAD IN TURKEY FLOCK

Every year blackhead in turkey flocks becomes a little more common, and every year the losses from the disease are a little larger. And while no positive treatment has ever been discovered, a remedy is being used by hundreds of successful turkey growers that proves very satisfactory if used before the fowls are in the last stages of the disease, says a writer in Successful Farming.

A slight lameness is usually discernible in a turkey coming down with blackhead. The bird gradually grows weaker, refuses to eat, but drinks an unusual amount. Diarrhea is usually present, and when the disease is in an advanced stage, the droppings are usually a bright yellow. The wings and tail are not held up. The head is drawn close to the body.

Sometimes the flesh parts of the head turn a bluish-black. If you are not sure whether it is blackhead or some other ailment that is affecting the bird, it will be wise to make a post-mortem examination. If the liver is covered with black or gangrene spots it will not be necessary to look further for the trouble. You may be sure blackhead is the trouble, and begin treatment accordingly.

Powdered ipecac may be used either as a remedy for blackhead or as a preventive. We prefer to use it as a preventive, as any disease is better prevented than cured. When blackhead enters our flock it usually causes the greatest losses before the poulters are six weeks of age. For this reason we begin feeding the ipecac to the poulters as soon as we begin feeding mash. It is fed in a wet mash—one teaspoonful of powdered ipecac to enough mash for 20 turkeys—twice a week. The same amount is given to the young birds and the mature fowls. This treatment will prevent blackhead entering your flock, though the youngsters are allowed to range with the older birds, and on infected ground.

If blackhead has entered your flock before treatment is begun, the sick birds should be fed half a teaspoonful of powdered ipecac in wet mash (for each bird) for three successive days. If the disease is not in the advanced stage it will not be difficult to remedy, but if the fowls are nearly dead when the treatment is begun, you cannot expect a large percentage of cures.

Heretofore, the only cure for blackhead has been to move to new, uninfected land, and this is usually only effective for the first season.

Do You Remember?

The following questions which are put to the record book keepers of Iowa by the Iowa State college are pertinent suggestions to all poultry keepers. "Do You Remember?" they say:

When milk ever spoiled the fertility or hatchability of an egg?

When a chick didn't make good growth when it has milk in its ration?

What a time you used to have getting a lot of early chicks hatched with hens?

When you had a mongrel flock and wished some one would come along and get you started with a good breed?

The time you had raising chicks on the old ground that had been used for 25 years without a change?

How your chicks acted when they were affected by worms and coccidiosis?

How you tried to fight intestinal parasites without new ground?

Poultry Facts

Milk in some form should be kept before chicks during the first month.

One of the things that our culling should do is to weed out the persistent sitters. The heavy layers do not waste time in broodiness.

Many chicks are not getting enough green feed. If they are not on range carry so to them or fix up a feeder and give them cut alfalfa or clover hay. You'll be surprised how they will eat it.

Wheat treated with copper carbamate to prevent stinking smut is not harmful to chickens, at least if fed for only a short time. Neither is it harmful to hogs, when fed in small amounts.

Sunlight and cod liver oil are said to prevent leg weakness. So will getting the chicks onto the ground, either outside the brooder house or on chunks of sod placed on the brooder floor.

Remember that heavy, sudden rains and floods do great damage to young poultry which are not given brooder housing under the right conditions. A house set low and open to rats and vermin is a menace to the profits of the flock.

For Summer Music
The symphony was designed at the start to play religious music. Its summer tones were for serious things. In fact, Mendelssohn found it so momentous that he wouldn't allow it to be played in any of the orchestras he conducted.—Exchange.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, June 16.—The principal speculative markets exhibited the usual summer dullness today. Professional traders wandered around the stock market first giving their attention to the specialty stocks and utilities, then the oil stocks, and finally the rails.

Sales for the first three hours were below the average of the last week or two. Transactions dribbled through in 100 share lots. Prices were strong in the early trading, after which some profit taking developed but not sufficient to cause weakness. Oil stocks were shaded a point or two from last week's high prices and motors, with the exception of the Pierce Arrows, also marched down hill.

Buying demand continued in Electric Light and Power, America Water Works, Sears Roebuck and numerous other specialty stocks. Bullish pools stirred up a few of the industrial leaders, like American Can and Baldwin. Rubber and tire shares returned to the active list with good buying of United States Rubber, Goodrich, Ajax, etc. Sugar stocks sold higher in the forenoon, but failed to retain interest. Mack Trucks was in demand around the highest prices for the current movement.

Leonard-Walker Bout in August

Bringing Leonard Out of Retirement to Meet Mickey Walker Some Time in August is Expected Soon—Bout One of the Big Guns of the Season.

By Davis J. Walsh.

Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 16.—Formal announcement was expected within a few weeks that Benny Leonard has thought better of his hasty retirement from the wholesale and tail glove business, following a series of protracted conferences between Jack Kearns and Billy Gibson.

It was thought that the deliberations these great minds had to do with

Dempsey-Tunney meeting, but it developed today that the subject under discussion was a bout between

Leonard and Mickey Walker in August.

It is understood, virtually as long as his word that Leonard will be given when the time comes.

While non-active professionally for a year, Benny has kept himself in condition at his gymnasium, where the tired business man gets his rest by running twenty laps around the track. The young man is said to be as sound physically as he ever was.

His mother, given credit in the word books for the decision over any that prompted his retirement from the lightweight division and the ring in general, is also alleged to have been won over to the position. She can buy a lot of sentimentality with the quarter million that is believed will fall in Leonard's lap as a result of the fight.

The bout, next to the proposed

Wills-Tunney transaction, is planned as the "big shot" of the 1923 outdoor season. It will fill any promoter with joy and the seats with cash customers. It is one of those affairs that needs no smoke up, no hallyho, no megaphone.

It is such a form-fitting transaction, in fact, that apparently Messrs

Kearns and Gibson have wasted little thought on Leonard's attitude

"He's a business man," Kearns said today, with a significant wink.

He and Gibson, it seems, have often so far ahead of the proposition that they are haggling over the division of the purse. Both think they are entitled to the biggest drag and only a gradual modification of his laudable idea will bring them to a amicable conclusion.

This will probably take the form of a fifty-fifty split of approximately half million dollars.

Treasure Hunt At Crosspatch

Crosspatch Community Center to Search for Hidden Treasure on July 4—New Hall Will Be Ready for Celebration.

New Crosspatch Community Center will not have a laying of the cornerstone, as many public buildings. The reason is that the corner-stone was already there when they came to build the extension which is now the Community House.

Its discovery was not altogether a matter of joy because Mrs. Crosspatch in haste to get the new place ready for the Fourth of July party had it a bit exasperating to hit a hole that takes several men four days to get it down to the level where it will form the cornerstone for the new beams that are to support the new floor.

Most of the rocks around the new building, as New Crosspatch was formerly known, are of the sort that can be wedged off in pieces, but this big rock has solid peaks running all through it. Any wedges were broken and there are aching muscles before it was dug to the level where it could be used.

It was too close to the main house to use dynamite, but on Saturday afternoon the last layer was chipped off, and that was the real ceremony. Some people think there may be buried treasure under it but if so, it is not likely to be disturbed for some time. It looks as though it goes down to China.

Those who dance at New Crosspatch may be sure that they have a place that is literally founded upon rock.

Quite a number of people motored to New Crosspatch Sunday to see the new building, and there have been many suggestions of a "Treasure Hunt" on the afternoon of July 4th. Mrs. Cross says that when they have treasure hunt at any of the fashionable places in New York, either the treasure is buried beforehand or is put in plain sight, but in the latter case, the clues might begin at Kingston and lead all the way to New Crosspatch, the prize going to the first party to arrive with a card properly punched, showing that every clue along the way had been followed.

Mrs. Cross has not decided just yet to hold the "Treasure Hunt" but it is thought that treasure hunt in various spots around the place will give the most amusement.

Some people are asking if New Crosspatch will really be ready by July 4th. Mrs. Cross says that it will. There have been unavoidable delays on the foundation of the floor will probably be laid this week and if the roof or siding is completed it doesn't matter in summer.

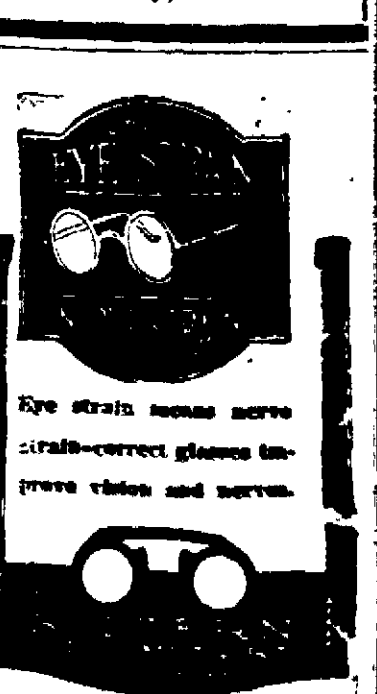

Mrs. Cross will be up from New York next Saturday to see how the work progresses.

A cute little boy writes very seriously to know if Rip Van Winkle will be at the Fourth of July celebration. They think he will. He has been seen wandering about the place and really Rip is a sociable old fellow. He likes to go where people are having a good time.

MISS BURHAN'S PUPILS RENDERED RICH RECITAL

In spite of a very warm evening the piano recital by the pupils of Miss Nettie Burhan Monday evening, held the close attention of the audience from the first to the last number on the program. When all do so well it is impossible to especially mention any one, for all the pupils showed style, good tone coloring and fine expression from the youngest to the eldest.

The program was varied with two vocal solos very acceptably sung by Miss Mildred LeRoy, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Harry LeRoy. The more difficult numbers "Whims" by Miss Feeney, "Serenade" and "Toccata" by Miss Phinney, "Drifting" and "To Spring" by Miss LeRoy were beautifully played and made a fitting close to a very enjoyable evening. Following is the program:

MISS RISELEY GIVES SUCCESSFUL PAGEANT.

The Pittsburgh Post of recent date contains the following:

Grove City, Pa., May 21.—For once the plans of Jupiter Pluvius and Miss Marietta Riseley of Grove City College faculty, were in perfect harmony for the annual May pageant by Grove City College. Incidentally the pageant was the most picturesque and artistic of any yet presented as well as listing the largest cast of any May pageant ever held at Grove City College. A total of 300 appeared in the various dances as well as the lengthy procession which prefaced the event. The pageant was entitled "An Hour in Demeter's Garden." It was presented in three episodes that drew their story from the mythological gods of the Greeks pertaining to Demeter, the Goddess of Grain, and Persephone, her daughter, the Goddess of Flowers. The scenery for this effect was built by Harry Post, head of the pattern shop of the Bessemer Gas Engine Company. Flowers for the scene were furnished by Harry Thompson, civic planter. A number of dances were introduced in character of various nationalities. The greater number of dances used in the pageant were those arranged by Louis H. Chaff, of Chaff School of Dancing, New York city.

Miss Riseley, who wrote the pageant and directed it, is to be highly complimented on the product of her skill. In appreciation of her tireless and skillful efforts her classes presented her with a large basket of beautiful roses and made her the appropriate leader of the Recessional.

The Collegian, official journal of the college, under date of June 1, says: "The fourth May pageant under the directorship of Miss Marietta Riseley was held on Friday, May 23, on the college athletic field. From the favorable comments of the most appreciative audience the affair was even a great success than in previous years."

Miss Riseley, a former women's physical director of Kingston schools, will return to Grove City College the coming year, this being her fifth year there.

BUT GRAND STAND AND REMOVE IT TO RHINEBECK

The Dutchess County Agricultural Society has purchased the grandstand and two of the buildings at the Hudson River Driving Park at Poughkeepsie. They will be razed and removed to Springbrook Park, Rhinebeck, where it is hoped to have them re-erected and in readiness for the year's fair. One of the buildings purchased will be converted into an exhibition building and the other used as an addition to the stable used for housing the race horses.

Miss Drews has sold her property located at 184 South Manor avenue to John E. Troy and Anita Troy, his wife. The Troys have already taken possession of their new purchase and will make it their home together with Mrs. Troy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Van Bramer who have con-

American Missionaries Warned Against Interfering in Chinese Situation.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, June 16.—American missionaries in China have been warned to "hold up," according to a Central News dispatch received today. Many of the missionaries are said to have been criticizing the British policy in China, resulting in a warning from the American charge d'affaires that they must not interfere in any way in the foreign situation.

Admissions have been secured from Chinese students, the dispatch stated, that they received funds from the Soviet ambassador, M. Karakhan, to carry on the anti-foreign agitation.

British diplomatic circles are keenly concerned over the Chinese situation, but there apparently is little chance of any independent British action. Great Britain, it was said today, will continue to act in concert with the other powers.

Few forces are planning a coup to create an anti-foreign regime in China.

A Strawberry Festival.

A strawberry festival on the lawn, at which homemade strawberry cake will be served, with an extra playing from eight to nine o'clock, a two dance in the parish hall, and a card party in the dining room and on 4 p.m. There were the three main features of the festival. A large crowd took part in the Thursday evening on May 23rd, and in the parish house. Card playing will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, while the dancing will begin at 9:00 p.m. The orchestra of four pieces will furnish the music.

Tagging Major League Bases

The Athletics did not go to Shibe Park to praise Speaker but to bury him. They buried him and his Judians under a thirteen run rally in the eighth, the greatest in the history of Philadelphia baseball, and won 17 to 15. Simmons's homer with two on, was the blow that broke the Indians tomahawk.

The Cards made it four straight victories while the Phils were making it nine straight defeats, 6 to 4, them doing the heavy work.

In a game of near lights, the Pirates drove Scott to cover, blood on the Giants' last lining rush and won, 7 to 6. It was the Giants' fourth consecutive defeat.

The Red Sox won a go-as-you-please from the White Sox 13 to 5, leading getting glittering support.

Donohue right-handed the Dodgers into submission and the Reds won on the hit, 5 to 2.

The Cubs made it five in a row by beating the Braves, 8 to 4. Jones pitching fine ball until the ninth when he let down and the Braves scored thrice.

REGATTA CREWS WILL ENGAGE IN TIME TRIALS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 16.— Weather permitting Easterners will be given their first view of the championship University of Washington eight moving at racing speed this afternoon. The Huskies, it was announced, will be sent over the full four mile distance for time in preparation for the intercollegiate regatta, June 22, and so great was the interest in the visitors that every coach on the river prepared to hold a watch on them.

Cornell, a rank outsider in the pre-race calculations, also was scheduled for a time trial over the distance this afternoon. Syracuse, faced by the probability of a shakeup today was due to take its trial tomorrow.

The Navy and Wisconsin were sent over the full distance under time res-terday and were said, unofficially to have failed to better 21 minutes.
This was accounted for by the fact that they rowed in dead water.

Colonials to Be Kept Busy

Brooklyn Royal Giants Will Be the Opponents at the Fair Grounds
Tonight and Again on Friday—
Other Games Scheduled.

So confident is Nat Strong, owner of the Brooklyn Royal Giants, that his colored team is able to defeat the Colonials that he has offered to donate a silver cup to the winner of a five game series between the Giants and the Colonials. Although the Royal Giants are considered among the best semi-pro teams in the country and already have one win credited to them over the Colonials this offer has been accepted. The second game of the series will be played this afternoon at the Fair Grounds at 6:30 o'clock. The Giants defeated the Colonials in the first game to the tune of 3 to 1. Tonight an effort will be made to even up the series and with some new material at hand the Colonials can be expected to give a good account of themselves.

The third game of the series will be played Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This series ought to create some interest among local fans for the Brooklyn Royal Giants have a reputation of being a good ball team and put up a nice game. They are considered one of the gamest fighting teams in this section and their first win over the Colonials proves that the teams are about equally matched.

The Colonials have a busy time ahead of them. A game has been scheduled for Sunday, June 21, when the D. & H. Generals will be the attraction at 3:30 o'clock. A game for Tuesday is being arranged between the Poughkeepsie Red Sox and the Colonials. Out of town games will also fill up the schedule.
Saturday, June 20, the Colonials will go to Poughkeepsie and play the Red Sox. A game is also being arranged for Thursday, June 18, at Middletown. Wednesday, June 24, they will play the Johnstown team at Johnstown and on Thursday, June 25, they cross bats with Chapple Johnstone's team at Oneonta.
This gives the local boys a pretty stiff program for the next two weeks.

However, since the Colonial managers have secured Earl and Kinney as pitchers, they feel confident that they will be able to maintain their reputation as a winning team. So far the Colonials have won eleven games and lost four.

Either Earl or Kinney will be used against the Brooklyn Royal Giants this evening depending on which one arrives in town and is in shape for the contest. The other will be held in reserve for the Friday afternoon game.

Negotiations which appear to be successful have been going on with a college player to cover the position between second and third. The Colonials need a snappy shortstop and the management believe they have secured the man they need. He may possibly be here for the game today.

Coming through with a percentage of over 700, the Colonials are going strong and should receive the support of every fan in the city. They deserve a much larger attendance at the games than they have been getting in the past. A team of the calibre of the Colonials playing attractions such as have been brought here this year should receive the support of every person in the town and in order that the players as well as the management continue their enthusiasm there should be better crowds at the games if winning ball is to be continued.

Goodrich, of Buffalo today was billed as the probable winner of the New York State Athletic Commission's lightweight elimination tourney as a result of his twelve round victory over Benay Valgar of New York last night. Goodrich easily earned the decision in a slow but by carrying the pace to Valgar from first to last.

He will meet Stanislaus Lagan, of Cuba, in the final round, the latter having disposed of Cliffo Olaso, of Cuba, by a knockout in the third round.

GIRL TO SWIM
THE ENGLISH CHANNEL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, June 16.—Gertrude Endler's chances of swimming the English Channel, a feat that no woman and only five men have ever accomplished, were regarded as very bright, following her sensational swim from the Battery to Sandy Hook.

The 17 year old swimming star accomplished the 21 miles from the Battery to the Hook in 7 hours 11 1/2 minutes, establishing a new record.
Part of the time she battled against a strong tide.
